

WILL CLEAN UP WHOLE COUNTY

Police Officials to Be Organized for Thorough Cleanup

TO MAKE IT A DESERT

Systematic Elimination of Undesirable Characters Result Aimed at OKMULGEE, Jan. 13.—Mayors of all cities and towns in Okmulgee county, deputy sheriffs, chiefs of police, constables and justices of the peace met here today to organize a county-wide enforcement body for the purpose of "cleaning up the Okmulgee district" of undesirable characters. The meeting was called at the instigation of county attorney James Hepburn.

"We are going to clean up the district," said Hepburn, "and we are going to see to it that the law is kept in force in every section in outlining the purpose of the meeting. We are going to go over a plan where the police and county officers work in harmony and will see that no stone is left unturned in making Okmulgee county an ideal place in which to live."

"We are going over the law and explain the powers to various officers to exercise and are going to lay plans for making a 'desert' of the county and placing crime at a minimum. We are going to put a stop to the open violation of the law and when we get offenders and 'lick up' every house in which liquor is sold, we will begin to realize results."

The practice of accepting cash bonds from alleged offenders will be stopped, according to the county attorney, and every man arrested will be brought before some court before any bond is set or money accepted.

Sand Springs Notes

SAND SPRINGS, Jan. 13.—The school play, "The Man Who Came Back," was not staged on Monday, January 11, as formerly planned, but will be given during the last week of the month. The unfinished auditorium is given as the reason for the postponement.

The boys of the animal husbandry class were given a stock farm near Broken Arrow Thursday afternoon, when they were taken on a tour of inspection by Prof. O. A. Giles, Mrs. Minette Giles, county superintendent of schools, and J. S. Malone, county farm demonstrator. The Fraker, Robertson and Kramer farms were visited by the boys, and also the county farm.

The Garfield school is especially interested and active in the health crusade now being conducted through the schools of this city.

Adopting a new method of electing the staff of the school paper, the students of the high school this week elected a Sandorian board which in turn elected the staff to serve for the present year. The successful candidates for positions on the staff included Wesley Willett, Helen Torrey, Henry Hettlinger, Baird Stephens, Rosa Cioccolia, Albin Plummer, Helen Spencer, Homer Chapman, Leo Donahue, Hazel Bradley, Carol Gilmore, Kathryn Hubbard and Vincent Chapman.

Chemical classes will plan their chemistry show within a short time. Chemical supplies ordered by the school board are in transit, it is reported.

A number of students in the grade schools were vaccinated last week as a precaution against smallpox.

Will Turn Down City Manager, Commission in Favor of Aldermen

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.
HENRYETTA, Jan. 13.—Henryetta, in April, 1920, voted against the present commission form of government, and on January 21, by ballot, will decide whether or not to adopt the city manager form, or go back to the old aldermanic government.

The opinion as gathered from interviews with the people is that while each of the three forms of government has its faults, the aldermanic form is the least objectionable to a larger number of the voters, and a heavy vote is looked for on election day to decide the matter.

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.
KINGFISHER, Jan. 13.—Antone Peterson, age 13, has left his home here after having been severely whipped by his stepfather, it is claimed, in the morning before the boy left for school. He has not been found. So far as can be ascertained concerning his departure he left no information where he was going. It is rumored that he may have gone to Wichita to find his father, who, it is claimed, lives there. The stepfather said, "He will come back when he gets hungry."

PLANS ARE MADE FOR WHEAT DEAL

Details Withheld From Public But to Be Announced Soon

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.
PONCA CITY, Jan. 13.—The wheat growers' organization has completed its work of mapping out a plan to market wheat, and also to finance the marketing. The details have not yet been announced, according to F. J. Gould, secretary of the Kay county wheat growers, but the plan is to use the mills and elevators already in existence and to control the farmers' wheat by contract. The wheat is to be marketed direct by the wheat growers' association, which will eliminate the speculator and middleman, it is claimed.

Mr. Gould explains that when the details for marketing wheat are announced the plans for financing the marketing will also be made public. It is not the intention, he says, to interfere in any way with the friend, country banks, but will supplement the work such banks are doing. The plan of the growers is to keep enough money in the west to finance both the growing and the marketing. It is intended also to establish a publicity bureau later. Under the new plan the various counties will be reorganized with experts in charge. Mr. Gould will work as such an expert both in Oklahoma and Texas. The county president, J. A. Blubaugh, stated today that he has not yet received the definite plans for marketing and financing.

Bristow Would Curb Commission's Power

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.
BRISTOW, Jan. 13.—Incensed by the recent raise in rates granted the local gas company, citizens of Bristow organized and drew up a petition addressed to the house and senate of the state legislature asking legislation curtailing the powers of the state corporation commission in respect to the regulation and fixing of rates charged by public utilities. The Bristow citizens request that such powers be placed exclusively in the hands of the municipal government, where it is contended the power to regulate the rate charged by public service utilities concerns rightfully belongs.

The petition is signed by 86 citizens of Bristow. They contend that the recent raise given the gas company was entirely unearned and with the recent cold snap, Bristow, situated in the heart of a big gas field, and in despite of the raise, is facing a gas shortage.

GIVES USEFUL INFORMATION

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.
KINGFISHER, Jan. 13.—Judge E. H. Hopkins of Kingfisher gave Earl St. Clair, age 19, of Wichita, Kan., his liberty after he was arrested for drinking too much homemade booze Tuesday morning when the young man gave the officer information that led to the arrest of the bootleggers who have been selling corn whisky in this city.

It is claimed that as a result of the young man's story, a still that has been in operation will be closed. Citizens in this city paid the young man's board at a hotel where he was allowed to stay after he was arrested. The young man lives in Wichita and promises to return to Kingfisher when the local bootleggers are tried in the county court.

By Associated Press State Wire.
OKMULGEE, Jan. 13.—That the Cadillac automobile in which the two alleged bandits, Herschel Wolf, of Tulsa, and John McStracken, attempted to escape from a posse of Calvin citizens and officers after they had shot two Calvin citizens Saturday night, is the car stolen from J. Belford, attorney, of this city, was the statement made here today by police Detective M. E. Spence upon his return here today from Holdenville where, he said, he identified the alleged bandits' car as the one stolen from the Belford garage, on the night of November 14.
